Swiss Aviation Consulting Announces Mr. Roland McKay Joins Company as Partner

Holzhäusern/Zug, Switzerland, 02 February 2010 – Swiss Aviation Consulting announces today that Mr. Roland McKay has joined the company as a Partner as of January 2010.

Roland McKay has a combined 30+ years of Aviation & Business Experience. He received his aircraft technician apprenticeship at Lufthansa, worked in Base Maintenance, instructed aircraft technicians in the Flying Navy and worked at LTU Airline's Line Maintenance. Afterwards he joined Airbus Industrie as a Provisioning Specialist for Line Replaceable Units. Furthermore, he studied business administration and continued to work within the Airbus Industrie Support Division as a Finance Controller with responsibilities for the Middle- and Far East Regions. His next career steps were Manager Credit Control of the EMEA regions for Juki, a Japanese Company and then Partner and Managing Director of Cebis GmbH, a Management Consulting Company.

Roland McKay's expertise will strengthen the company's technical and conceptual areas. In his new activity he heads Swiss Aviation Consulting's technical department supporting the group's asset management and continuing airworthiness management activities.

Dr. Daniel Lütolf, Managing Partner of Swiss Aviation Consulting says: "I am very pleased to welcome Roland McKay to the team. He has gathered aviation expertise from ground up and combines it with a wealth of management and business experience. This makes him an ideal member of our consulting team. Adding assets like Roland will assure Swiss Aviation Consulting's bespoke service quality while carefully growing the business."
